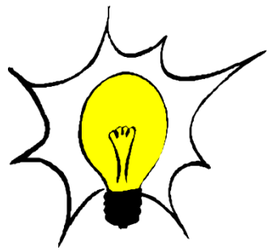
Speech and Language Message of the Week

Teach in a style that offers "self-discovery" of a topic to allow children to take the lead.



Be inspiring!

Motivate children by offering rewards. Praise effort rather than results.

TIPS TO MOTIVATE CHILDREN TO LEARN NEW THINGS

Explain the reason why the children are learning a certain topic to help them understand the importance and relevance.

Offer choices where possible so children feel as though they are making decisions.

Tailor the learning to the children's interests to make the topic relevant to them. Children are more likely to be engaged!
